

about iDry

The award winning iDry Body Dryer is the original body dryer.

iDry uses innovative technology to dry you before you leave the shower. Thanks to the air pores positioned at different heights along the dryer leg, the drying action is effective and efficient. The airflow increases the rate of evaporation from the skin and ensures the whole body is evenly dried.

Invented in 1991 by Michael Godwin, our body dryer has been helping people around the world for over 30 years.

The iDry is available in three colours: anthracite grey, pure white, or latte cream.

why iDry

The iDry is the industry front-runner because of its unique, all-over drying ability.

Due to its design protections, the iDry cannot be replicated legitimately, allowing us to maintain a high standard of quality, safety and service.

Selecting the iDry Body Dryer means you are choosing the product built with the same values and principles as Michael's original concept.

Fitting and maintaining the iDry Body Dryer is extremely easy. It fits neatly into shower cubicles, while the leg can be reduced in size for a varied range of situations.

The ABS plastic is a hard wearing, durable material, found in cars, vacuums and body dryers. Fully sealed and waterproof, the iDry is a safe and effective way of drying.

HYGIENIC

iDry Body Dryer is the most hygienic way to dry. Towels can be a source of bacteria in bathrooms, but iDry dries the body with no contact to the skin - just pure, warm air.

EFFICIENT

The iDry Body Dryer will dry you quickly in as little as 2 minutes. It can also help you save on laundry.

ECO-FRIENDLY

By eliminating the need to wash and tumble dry towels, the iDry can save 70 litres of water and 3.5 kilowatts of energy, and prevent harmful detergents from polluting our waterways. The dryer requires only 0.15 kilowatts of energy per 3 min cycle.

care

The iDry Body Dryer is a useful tool for those who need care or have limited mobility. It will give independence back to its users and offer respite for carers.

iDry allows you the privacy and the freedom to shower when you wish, and cuts carer time and costs. The air pressure remote can be positioned in an optimum position for your use, whether on the floor or wall mounted.

OT's from the private and public sector, have been recommending iDry throughout the UK for more than 20 years. Very often the iDry Body Dryer is specified by architects whilst designing an assisted living environment according to clients' need-based specifications. The body dryer is an advantageous tool to promote independent functioning in daily life. It enables a person to reduce, delay and avoid the need for more expensive care intervention.
